Cancer claims life of Joseph Engandela

ALGONQUIN — Joseph Engandela, 51, School District 300 director of business affairs, died Thursday of cancer at Sherman Hospital, Elgin.

Mr. Engandela was employed at District 300 since 1954. He began his educational career in the district as a teacher at Carpentersville Elementary School. In 1955 he taught sixth grade and served as principal at Parkview Elementary School.

In 1960 and 1961, he was principal at Kings Road Elementary School, and in 1962 he moved to Algonquin Middle School as principal.

Mr. Engandela was appointed District 300 director of business affairs in June, 1973. He served with the U.S. Army from 1943 through 1946.

He received his B.A. from Chicago Musical College in 1949 and his masters degree from Northern Illinois University in 1960.

He was a member of the popular dance combo, "The Profs."

District 300 Supt. Kenneth

JOSEPH ENGANDELA

Neubert said, "Joe Engandela was a good personal friend. He was a model for all of us. He was truly concerned for every child he met. His warmth, understanding, and ability made him what he will remain . . . special. He believed in kids . . . we will miss him more than can be expressed."

Mr. Engandela is survived by his wife Anne, a son James of Menomonie, Wis.; a daughter, Mrs. William (JoAnne) Deen of Springfield; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Engandela of Chicago; a brother, Victor of Chicago; two sisters, Mrs. Anthony (Annie) Buttita of Chicago and Mrs. Eugene (Nancy) Malone of New Lenox, Ill.

He was a member and past president of the Algonquin Lions, a member of Phi Delta Kappa, Chicago Federation of Musicians, Elgin Federation of Musicians, Fox Valley Principals Association and the Illinois Principals Association.

He was a member of St. Margaret Mary Church in Algonquin.

Mass will be at 11 a.m. Monday at the church with burial at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Dundee. Visitation will be after noon Sunday at the Algonquin Wait-Ross-Allanson Chapel.
